Abstract

Equitable education is the robust tool of the civilized people. It is an education that moulds an animal into human being. Equitable education leads the society into the modernization and proper regime. However, slack and inequitable education system enhances the insurgency and revolt among the state. It is not only increases the revolt but also the extremism and terrorism as well. In this regard, if we talk about the Balochistan, Pakistan is not behind in these situations. There has been existed all of the upper circumstances like, insurgency, revolt against government, extremism and terrorism as well. Behind these circumstances, there are lying multiple factors. For the identification of these factors, the research is being conducted. Education serves as the backbone for the development of nations. The countries with the effective impressive need oriented, saleable and effective system of education comes out to be the leaders of the world, both socially and economically. Pakistan's current state demands that the allocations for education be doubled to meet the challenges of gender disparity and provision of teachers in the work places earlier than 2018 as per stipulated qualifications. The natural calamities, political turbulence, provincialisms, and political motivations make the best planned, fail. The allocations towards the sector of education could not be enhanced because of the earlier. We have to revisit our priorities to keep the country on the track of progress.

Introduction

Background of the study

The insurgency is one of the over-arching phenomena existed all over world Shuja (2007). If we peer it in to the history, the phenomena persisted right through the country. But the centre of the insurgency is considered now a day the central Asian countries and African as well. The chronological prefatory could not still met to the historians Syed (2009). The Equitable education, another variable mentioned in the current research has also inevitable background is illustrated is the coming heading and its interpretation (Laderman, 2009).

To start with, insurgencies in light of ideological grievances, Ideological basis that punctual to guerrilla developments are among the most incessant reasons for insurgency (Sahay, 2010). Islamic and socialist insurgencies are the most obvious sorts of ideological based insurgencies in the modern world. The more remote and mal-imparted a general public is the more potential are there for rebellion and radical developments to start. So in separated social orders, racial clashes and radical developments are at the focal point of governmental issues, and stand for a conspicuous test to the attachment of state and at times to tranquil connections among states. These partitions make intense, affiliations that are regularly at the foundation of brutality thus of their apparent hardships. Second, insurgencies in light of eagerness greed are the essential main thrust of start of dissimilar guerrilla developments. (Shrivastava, 2005).

Insurgency in Balochistan and Role of Equitable Education

Balochistan is in the throes of the fifth and longest running insurgency since 1947. Since 2005 by the assault of a woman specialist supposedly by an armed force officer in Sui, it was exacerbated by the passing of Nawab Akbar Khan Bugti in an Army operation in August 2006 (Sanaullah, 2008). The most recent insurgency is unique in relation to the past ones in a few regards. Firstly, its forms are far more extensive, enveloping essentially all the Baloch larger part zones in the area including southern Balochistan, which was unaffected prior. Besides, it likewise finds extensive support among youthful, instructed Baloch. That incompletely clarifies why it is most extreme in zones like Turbat locale where education rates contrasted with other Baloch larger part ranges are higher (Chaudat, 2010).

Taking after are a portion of the more conspicuous gatherings required in or connected with the insurgency in some limit. They are altogether restricted by the administration. Baloch Liberation Front:

Led by Dr Allah Nazar, BLF guaranteed duty regarding the murder on April 11 of 20 workers in Turbat (Malik, 2009). BLF's region of operations extends to a great extent crosswise over Awaran, Panjgur, Washuk, Turbat and Gwadar regions in southern Balochistan where, in spite of mainstream thinking, the sardari framework in which effective tribal boss possess enormous tracts of land, does not exist. (Malik, 2009).

Conceptual framework

Equitable education and the elimination of insurgency

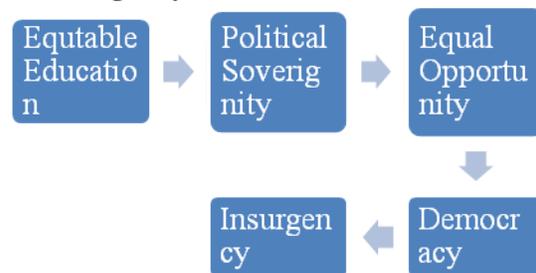

Illustration of the Model

The upper model reveals how equitable education eliminates the insurgency and the boosts up the political sovereignty, equal employment opportunities and democracy. Equitable education increases the chances of the political sovereignty. Political sovereignty boosts up the equal opportunities of the employment. The equal opportunities increase the democratic society and finally the democratic society mitigates the insurgency.

Propositions

1. Equitable education boosts up the political sovereignty
2. Political sovereignty increases the equal employment opportunities
3. Equal opportunities enhances the rule of democracy
4. The pure soul of democracy eliminates insurgency

Conceptualization

Equitable Education

According to Oxford dictionary 4th edition (2010:443) illustrated that equitable means just for all. It means that the education for all is called equitable education. However, Webster concise 7th edition (2013:688) defined equitable means fair and transparent. Blackwell (2009) defined the equitable education best performing education systems are those that combine quality with equity. Equity in education means that personal or social circumstances, such as gender, ethnicity or family background, do not constitute obstacles to achieving educational potential and that all individuals achieve at least a basic minimum level of qualifications. In these educational systems, the vast majority of students have the opportunity to achieve high-level skills, regardless of their own personal and socio-economic circumstances.

Insurgency

Britannica (2009) defined an insurgency is a rebellion against authority when those involved in the rebellion are not recognized as belligerents. However, Shams (2005) told that insurgency is best defined as an organized movement aimed at the overthrow or destruction of a constituted government through the use of subversion, espionage, terrorism and armed conflict. In this way Raman (2012) told that insurgency comes in many blends, but most of its members share three convictions: that the ruling elite has lost touch with the founding ideals of political insurgency.

Origin of Educational Insurgency in Balochistan

NEP (2008) revealed that a distant attainment review process that comprised all areas and the rare geographical ranges. Most of its major rudiments incorporate a prominence on better education, strategies and all-surrounding arranging through betterment of part arrangements. It changes to a yield and consequence ran way to agreement with educational policy and arranging and advocates measures for educational sources of info, procedures and yields. It pressures on worth and viewpoints the dissimilar similar outlines of education as non- source of increasing cleavages inside society.

World Bank (2008) clarified that the social advancement gaps between Balochistan and another provinces limited from 2001 to 2007. Better national economy among the Musharraf government prolonged the advantage move through the NFC grant and expanded focal government conjectures, for example, the development of the national roadway organize, Gwadar Port, , and the Canal Irrigation Project Karachi . However, in 2007, Balochistan counted the most negligible amongst all areas of Pakistan with admiration to markers for education, skill, happiness, and water and sanitation.

The Reciprocal Relationship between Equitable education

Insurgency

There is proportional relationship between even handed training and uprising. In any case, on the off chance that we see the state of the Balochistan, the circumstance is existed keeping in mind the end goal to get it. Revolt is the condition illegal and arrange, even the instruction under the administration.

The general population under the power and passageway execute the principals for people in general. Be that as it may, the impact assemble proliferate the terrorizing to hone the normal tissue. Same is the situation with Balochistan, Specific kind of gathering incite the average citizens not to receive the standards actualized by the Government.

As the equal relationship of the instruction and insurrection is concerned, both of the circumstances assume a fundamental part to dishearten and empower too. For instance, the precise and national instruction arrangements for training dishearten the revolt. Be that as it may, the rebellion sporadically, supports the advanced instruction not with regards to Balochistan. The Insurgency and the fair instruction in the Balochistan are battling to overwhelm each other. Truly, the circumstance is absolutely under control.

Impact of Reciprocity in Education and Insurgency on the People of Balochistan

Equitable education has the positive impact on the people of Balochistan. However, there is reciprocal relationship between equitable education and insurgency. However, if we glimpse the condition of the Balochistan, the situation is existed in order to understand. Insurgency is the condition against the law and order, even the education under the regime.

The people under the power and corridor implement the principle for the public. But the collide group propagate the intimidation to practice the common flesh. Same is the case with Balochistan, Specific type of group provoke the common people not to adopt the principles implemented by the Government.

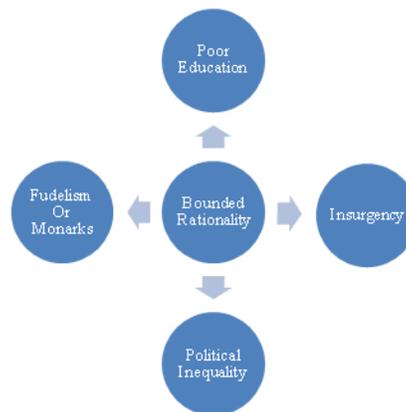

As the reciprocal relationship of the education and insurgency is concerned, both of the situations play a vital role to discourage and encourage as well. For example, the accurate and national education policies for education discourage the insurgency.

However, the insurgency occasionally, encourages the modern education not in the context of Balochistan. The Insurgency and the equitable education in the Balochistan are fighting to dominate each other. As a matter of fact, the situation is totally under control. But the struggle to do is scarce.

Theoretical Framework

According to Simon (2001) Bounded rationality is the idea that when individuals make decisions, their rationality is limited by the available information, the tractability of the decision problem, the cognitive limitations of their minds, and the time available to make the decision. Decision-makers in this view act as satisfiers, seeking a satisfactory solution rather than an optimal one. Herbert A. Simon proposed bounded rationality as an alternative basis for the mathematical modelling of decision-making, as used in economics, political science and related disciplines.

Application of the theory

The upper model demonstrates that bounded rationality is the source of insurgency; because the insurgency is one of the major indicators of the bounded rationality existed in the community of the Balochistan. The bounded rationality created multiple issues is given in the model. For example, insurgency, Political inequality, monarchy system and poor education are key indicator of the bounded rationality.

Objectives of the study

- (1) To Explore The People Perception About Insurgency In Balochistan And Its Effects On Education
- (2) To Study Problems Faced By The Locals In Accessing School Due To Insurgency
- (3) To Explore Various Cultural Effecting Equitable Education

Research locale

This research study carried out in Zhob district of Balochistan, Pakistan. Zhob is located on the banks of Zhob river. When there was British government Zhob named was fort sandeman. On 30 July the prime minister of Pakistan Zulfiqar ali bhutto had changed the name.

Sampling and data collection

The researcher has used simple random sampling technique to collect data. Questionnaire is an accurate and precise tool for collection of data in a systematic way. There is difficult to study all population that is why 550 respondents were selected. All the respondents were intervned in Zhob city.

Results and discussions

This chapter indicates the study and debate of the data. The facts were accessible in regularity distribution tables. The discussion of finding precedes its respective tables. Finally, a brief of relevant study has been presented.

Table 1 show that they were educating their children to help in financial system. They told to the researcher that we prefer more business than job, because for job its takes time, money essential and required many years, we do not have in this position to give our children for education.

Table 2 shows that majority of the respondents told the researcher that education is important both girls and boys, because without education we cannot go forward in any section of life. But we do not have enough money for our children to get better education.

Table 3 showed that majority of the respondent was told that public schools are providing quality education at some extent as compared to the private schools. They told to the researcher that private schools teacher performance, books, teacher attendance is much better than public school system. Public schools safety system are not better than private schools, and public schools the security system is not good that is why parents prefer for their children to get education in public schools.

Table 4 showed that major issue of not getting equitable education is economic and social issue. They told that our social system is not giving permission females to go outside and get education, and in co-education we cannot give our children for education. There is also need to built universities and colleges for girls so they can get separate classes and play their role in society. Table 4 showed that due to of insurgency the school system disturbed. The social system was disturbed and security threats are still there. Our conflict is there in land issue between one cast to another so this is also reason of instability of our community.

Table 5 showed that education can bring changes in society. Most of the respondents agreed that education is important and we are more conscious about better education. But still need to improve in education, innovative things is needed in our educational system, computer lab, science and more innovative technological stuff is need in this area

Recommendation

1. Equitable education takes part in important role to overcome insurgency in Balochistan. A well education nation can progress more as compared to less educated. But there is also need to improve in educational system, due to of equitable education will bring positive changes in society.
2. Primary and secondary education is the backbone of the education. All we see progress in this world is due to of education. Education can reduce uncertainty and create peaceful and loving atmosphere. Equitable education holds important role in the economy and secondly it acts as a contribution for country. Most of the develop countries are focusing on education so that that is marked by high level of success. There is need to improve in education so that the country progress.
3. Quality education depends on the availability and effective use of (a) innovative teaching methodologies are needed and to give confidence self-governing thinking, (b) competent, aggravated well skilled teacher, (c) right well intended set of courses, (d) useful knowledge materials as well as but not restricted to textbooks, (e) a appropriate, healthy education environment, and (f) a suitable consistent examination method. In Pakistan the primary and secondary sector is ignored, teachers are not capable and are not highly motivated to give strong innovative knowledge to the students.

4. Girl education is also important. There is need to built more separate schools for girls because in traditional system the parents were not allowing their children to study in co-education system.
5. Security was one of the major threats in this area, the government and community people should take responsibility to overcome security issues. So their children got better education without any fear.
6. Most of the respondent's children were studying in private schools so there is need to make innovative changes in public schools. Most of the respondents were not able to give their children education in private schools because they do not afford. If public school systems are good then all community children can educate and they can play positive role in the society with positive mind.
7. There is need to improve educational system in Zhob and all province. The government should take responsibility to give equitable education for Balochistan people so they can participate in country progress.
